Ms. Gail Holley works for the Florida Department of Transportation (FDOT) in the State Traffic Engineering and Operations Office where she manages their statewide aging road user program, “Safe Mobility for Life.” Program accomplishments include the formation and leadership of a coalition with 28 member organizations all working together to implement a comprehensive Aging Road User Strategic Plan. The plan is designed to strike a balance between safety and mobility to ensure that Floridians maintain independence and remain active in the community even when driving is no longer a safe option.
